

89147 - EL. CONNECTOR OPTIONS

Replacement suggestion

The connector mounted on Nissens compressor 89147 is one of two options that are available on the market today. If this connector does not match the connector on the compressor being replaced, the old connector has to be reused. If this is the case, it means that the old connector has to be removed from the compressor being replaced and then mounted on the new compressor received from Nissens.
